GAMBLING CASE. Nine men were convicted upon the information of Inspector Gauld, of public gambling at No. 54, West Street. Three of the defendants who had acted as manager, banker, and shroff, respectively, were each fixed $100, the remainder $1 each.

Four men were charged with thefts of copper. the property of the Dock Company at Hungham. One of the defendants was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment with hard labour, the remainder to three weeks.

GAMBLERS' WATCHMAN FINED. of four months' imprisonment with hard labour for being a watchman to gamblers.

DEFICIENT BALANCES. Eight shopkeepers were convicted upon the information of Inspector Baker of having deficient balances. Two of the defendants were fined $30 each, four $10 each, and the remaining two $5 each.

PUBLIC GAMBLING. Chung Chuk Man and seventeen others were brought up to answer the charge of public gambling at No. 4, Henng Lane.

Mr. Caldwell appeared for the defence. Sergeant Mann stated that on the evening of the 25th instant he went to the premises in question with a party of Police and several informers. where he arrested the defendants. He found a covered table, money, dominous, etc. Cross-examined, he said that of the money produced he found only 40 cents in the gambling room. The door was an ordinary door. Did not see anyone acting as watchman, Chinese constable 315 and two informers were also examined, but under cross-examination made most contradictory statements.

MR. KAW HONG TAKE, J.P., AND CONSTABLE PATTERSON.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS." SIR.—Whilst in this case blame is due to the Policeman for his indiscretion, is not the root of the fault in our system of Police? The fundamental error is in the foolish attempt to assimilate the Police to the Military. Whatever may have been the origin of this, whether vanity or any other cause, there can be no question that it is most mischievous. Not only is a policeman not a soldier, but he should be, in almost everything, the opposite of one. The duty of a soldier in action is simple, implicit, prompt obedience. This is not the only duty of policoman. In him intelligence is more important than physical process; and the scope of his duty should embrace the exercise of it.

If then the duties and character of theone differ | make certain reductions in thom. so widely from the other, why should there be the constant effort made to liken them? Why mustour Superintendent be called Captain! Why must the policemen have believts made to imitate as closely as possible those of our troops? These are by no means of the most useful pattern. The attempt to play at soldiers and soldiering may be all very well for children, but for men it is unworthy. THE TRADE BETWEEN BURMAR

AND WESIERN CHINA. The Rangeon Gazette writes .- It can scarcely be expected for a year or two yet, but it is to be hoped that in time some method of registering the trans-frontier trade of Upper Burmah will be devised. Hitherto the figures have been compiled on the old method which was started when the upper province was really itself a trans-frontier country. It is now, however, nearly two years since it caused to be so, and, though-it is well to continue the present system until the country is settled and the new boundaries clearly defined, eventually all Barmah must be treated as one country, and the trans-frontier trade confined solely to that passing beyond British territory altogether. The old method, however, is

His Lordship said it was impossible to credit Although the existing statistics give us little trade of Bhamo by keeping a register derived from the manifests of the vessels engaged in the conveying of merchandise between Mandalay and Bhamo. Some of this trade, no doubt, and probably a very considerable portion of it, is merely a local trade between these two important Burmese towns. But a part also must be a genume trans-frontier trade. Of course, as no trustworthy statistics were kept by the Burmese Gosernment, it is quite impossible to ascertain how is something though to have got at the total of a year's trade, as a basis by which to measure fu-

After all that has been said about the enormous trade possible with Western China and passing should probably have had more trouble at Bhamo, and land there would scarcely be advancing in value so rapidly as it seems to be doing. The inference is that the total of 37 lakks may be taken as a not unfair estimate of what the total trade between Mandalay and Bhamo, including the trade to Yunnan, has been in the time of the Ambassador, will leave shortly. How much of this is local trade and how much genuine trans-frontier trade, we can only conjecture from the articles named, and these would lead one to infer that less than half which was "exported" to the value of nearly 61 January, 1887. lakhs. This probably was for the most part a real export to the region beyond our boundsries. Of the Rs. 83,000 worth of salt, too, a good deal may have gone into the Kachyen hills yarns, which, however, aggregate only about 23 Mr. Donnys, who appeared for the defence, through Bhamo; but if there has been such an sarily elapse before that object could be attained.

OF MORTGAGES.

The spirited debate on the Irish Land Bill i the House of Commons evolved a proposal which though at present novel and indignantly scouted is one to which bankers and dealers in credit generally will do well to accustom themselves it time, for if events are allowed to drift as they promise to do, it will most certainly be speedily We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions brought within the range of practical politics The fall in prices has caused rents to appear exorbitant, honce the demand for the reduction of Irish rents, which has been partly granted But rents are by no means the only charges to be considered, and Lord Randolph Churchill has ventured to think that "it would not be inequitable, or unreasonable, or impolitic, for the House to consider the position of the Irish landlords as affected by the legal reductions of rent-their position in connection with settlements and mortgages." As to settlements or jointures, the Government are already prepared to permit with regard to Ireland a change in the mode of calculation; but the large question of mortgages has, as yet, been touched upon only by Lord Randolph Churchill, who, in an eminent spirit of fair-play, proposes a clause in the Irish Bill to give power to the Land Courts to review, with large equitable jurisdiction, the mortgages on estates, and to

This is a proposal which will at first strike most people as revolutionary, but which, in the present state of things, is one that is very likely to be adopted before long. If the neglect of the Stave to properly perform one of its most important duties—that of preserving in good order the monetary standard-result in necessitating a readjustment of rents, it will equally necessitate an equitable rearrangement of other burdens, among which mortgages assuredly hold a first place. That this will happen unless the double currency standard be introduced is about as plain as that two and two make four: for no definitely squeezed out of what is morally

... W. DOBERCK. Hongkong Observatory, 26th August, 1887. A PAUPER'S DYING REQUEST.

An amusing and yet pathetic incident in what the poet Gray called "the short and simple annals of the poor," is told by Mr. John J. R. Micklejohn, one of the Inspectors of the Poor, at Lerwick, Shetland Islands. He says that some time ago an old woman, named Barbara Smith, came under the notice of the Board. She was extremely ill, and it did not look likely that she' would long need care of any kind. She did not reside on the mainland, but on a small island a few miles distant, and there being no parcohial institutions in that place, Barbara necessarily occupied the position of a pauper living out. The trouble from which she suffered dated back many Labouchers stigmatized the mission of Sir Union Insurance Society of Canton, Limited - years. In better and more prosperous days she had in some way laid the foundation for Chronic Indigestion and Dyspepsis, and out of this had sprung other complaints as age and bodily infirmities crept apace upon hor.

> Barbara was not ignorant, albeit she had fallen into poverty. In earlier life she somehow obtain ed the advantage of a fair education, and this, added to native shrewdness, enabled her to use good judgment in respect to her own situation and state of health. Although she had long suffered from asthma and a bronchial affection, Barbara was wise enough to see that these ail ments arose from the disordered stomach and digestion, and that if the main trouble could be Hongkong and Whampon Dock Company's cured the others would soon leave her. It is probable that her disease began as others do, with the usual symptoms: headaches, bad breath, the rising of sour fluids in the threat, oppression and faintness at the pit of the stomach, loss of sleep, coated tongue, dull eyes, bad tast in the mouth, &c., and finally became objectic and hopeless through her not being able to find any remedy The Inspector states that she had been under medical treatment for years, but to no effect. In this strait she one day made the following touching appeal to the Inspector: "I have been swal-Lowing medicines for wonths. They do me no good. I am going on from worse to worse. I can endure it no longer. I feel that in a week or two I shall be dead. There is one last request I would Hongkong and China Bakery Company, Limited | make of you: give me a bottle of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup; it is my only hope. If it proves a failure and does me no good I will die in peace and make no more expense to the parish."

It seems she had got hold of one of Mother Seigel's Almanacks and read of the great cures The Board pitied the poor lone woman and granted her petition, believing, however, the Syrup would prove as useless as the other medicines she had already taken. What was their astonishment to find, in the course of a few days, that she had not only been able to get out of bed, but to move about outside the house and had taken journeys to a considerable dis- S.
